Orchard Park

By DON BROWN

Hi Ya Folks! All our folks seem to be doing OK after the Thanksgiving Day festivities. There must have been a lot of wonderful dinners in the neighborhood as the traffic was down to the minimum at dinner time. So far I have not heard of any disastrous results from overeating.

Dior Treatment—That misshapen tree in the front yard of 162 Dutra Way certainly took on the Dior shape this last Sunday. The arrangement of wire braces, recently installed by the resident there had been the subject of a great deal of comment. Now with the new trim? I am wondering what the remarks will consist of.

Your reporter and TWOM (that wife of mine) and James Grissom, were the Thanksgiving dinner guests of the John Mondays on Dutra Way.

"Pete" Peterson and family spent the day at Santa Rosa as guests of Mrs. Peterson's sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ids. Daughter Helen remained there until Sunday and the Ids brought her home then.

Mrs. John Peters returned Monday afternoon from a flying trip to Odessa, Texas, where she visited her sister and her mother at Ft. Sumner, New Mexico. She traveled by Trans World Airlines on the trip.

Our Column Guests this week are Frederick (Finefoods) Moy and his charming wife Bodecia (Bodie). Freddie, as he is known to all, was born in Chicago in 1922, of Chinese parents. He is a graduate of Armory Business College. Before coming to Centerville he operated the Brookfield Food Center at 98th Avenue Oakland and later the Baneroff Market on 86th Ave., in which he still holds an interest. His Thriftmart on Thornton is the latest venture.

Freddie and Bodie are the parents of two fine little girls. I questioned them as to why there were no boys and heard the following story. It is an old Chinese Legend that in the race from Heaven by the new babies it is a matter of who can run the fastest. In their two cases the girls outran the boys, "there you are."

Ambulance Rolls—I believe we are to be congratulated for our record over the Holiday for lack of traffic accidents. This area was particularly lucky in being low in them.

On November 16 at 4:50 p.m. a collision at Jarvis and Dairy Roads resulted in slight injuries to one person, who was treated at Dr. O'Connor's office in Newark.

Nov. 17, 8 p.m. Niles Highway near Niles Machine Shop, two-car collision, three with slight injuries taken to Fairmont Hospital, mostly facial cuts and head bumps.

6:33 p.m. at east end of Western Pacific Tunnel in Niles Canyon, a car went over the embankment, rolled down about seventy-five feet and ended up on the railroad tracks. The young lady driver from Sunol was seriously injured and was taken to Fairmont Hospital.

Nov. 22, 6:55 a.m. a freak accident at Cook Road and Highway 17 sent a young mother to Fairmont and later Levine Hospital in Hayward with critical injuries. A foggy morning at that time, the young lady was returning to Milpitas from taking her husband to work in Newark. Earlier, a truck had lost a barrel of ground horse meat from its load and the contents were scattered over the highway. The lady stopped suddenly when the barrel showed up in the fog and her car was struck from behind by another car. She alighted from her own vehicle to investigate the damage, and while doing so the two cars were struck again from behind and the lady was thrown under the first two cars. This resulted in compound fractures of both legs and abdominal burns, evidently from the exhaust pipe of one of the cars. Her twelve-year-old sister, who did not leave the car was uninjured. None of the others involved were injured.

Nov. 23, 7:34 p.m. a child fell from a car at Hillview Crest but after arrival at the scene, no ambulance was needed.

Nov. 24, 11:08 a.m. at the entrance to Westvaco and Thornton Ave. an auto truck crash resulted in slight injury to the car driver.

Nov. 27, 10:23 a.m. L & V Station car-truck collision, two injured slightly.

Nov. 28, 3:51 p.m. Child shot in foot, taken to Fairmont with slight injury.

Nov. 29, 11:10 a.m., accident on Mission Grade. The driver of a car in trying to avoid hitting a highway truck, swerved into a rock embankment, wrecking the front end of his car and suffered a slight cut on the bridge of his nose. He was taken to San Jose hospital by private car and the ambulance dismissed after arrival at the scene.

Mrs. Burnett, wife of Dr. Burnett, 155 Dondero Way, returned home Saturday from San Jose Hospital after being taken there by ambulance several days earlier. We sincerely hope for her speedy recovery.

ALAMEDAS ENTERTAIN

Celebrating Thanksgiving with the 21 members of the A. E. Alameda family in Irvington were the Wes Emerys of Alvarado, Mrs. Mildred Harrison of San Diego, and Miss Louise Notti, formerly of Salt Lake City, now of San Francisco.

Shopping Centers Win Approval

"How can you say this can't be a shopping center if there'll be thousands of homes there within another year? If a man wants to spend $3,000,000 to develop something, it's not our business to protect other centers.

"We can't get capital into this county on that basis. When a subdivider by his own investment creates buying power, he's entitled to use part of his own land for commercial purposes."

Thomas retorted that it is the Planning Commission's business "to decide what's going to be the commercial area, and to stick to it, and not to change every time someone decides to start a shopping center."

Dugan then said he would not vote for the entire 75-acre proposal submitted by Stevenson and Davis, but moved approval for the 32 acres, plus parking. This was adopted.

Dugan was equally outspoken against the Sunnyacres center. In addition to its proximity to the school, he said he was unable to find out exactly how much land would be set aside for parking. Colvin replied he cannot say until final design of the stores is approved, but estimated 12 out of 15 acres would be used for cars.

Dugan demanded that "the school board be notified because 'school trustees are always against commercial developments next to schools.'"

But Chairman P. J. DeBernardi asked Commissioner Robert J. Wright of Irvington his opinion, and Wright said he thought "it's O.K. next to the school."

The motion then passed, with Dugan voting "no."

On hand for the hearing but keeping mum was W. Burdette Williams, who owns 80 acres at Santos Road and Highway 17, one mile north of the Stevenson-Davis center. Williams sent the planners a letter last week, saying he is considering a commercial development there.

However he told reporters on Monday that plans are not definite, and "may be held up awhile" by the big "regional" center at PG&E Road.

Groundbreaking For New Bank

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held in Centerville early yesterday for the new Bank of America branch.

Mrs. Loren Marriott, wife of the bank's local manager, turned the first shovelful of earth. Work started immediately under direction of the Capital Co., B of A's property agent, and Indenco Corp., Oakland contractors.

Marriott estimated the new bank, located at Main near Thornton Ave., will be completed by the end of summer.

Terry Moyer, developer of a 14-unit shopping center next door, said work will start there December 15 and that stores will be occupied by June 1.

Wife Slayer Dies

Joseph Pollins, 38-year-old Irvington chemical worker who slew his wife November 6 in Santa Clara, died Tuesday in a San Jose hospital from a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Pollins shot himself in the mouth after firing several shots into his estranged spouse, Joyce, 27, the day after she moved from their Irvington home to escape his rage.

Surviving is their six-year-old son, Stanley, who witnessed the tragedy. Santa Clara County medical authorities waged a 24-day fight to keep Pollins alive.

Double Yule Bonus For Newark Bank

The Central Valley Bank of California will double the regular year-end Christmas Bonus for its staff.

This record payment was announced today by C. P. Partridge, President.

The Bank's personnel will receive the equivalent of one month's salary, and those with less than one year's service will receive a proportionate amount, Partridge said. The bank has a branch in Newark.

PUBLISHER'S COLUMN

By GEORGE H. OAKES

The first annual installation of Kiwanis Club of Newark was celebrated with a banquet and dance at Castlewood Country Club at Pleasanton. The setting was a charming one, made notable by large delegations of San Leandro and San Lorenzo Kiwanis Club members, as they were the sponsoring club. With their ladies, together with a big outpouring of couples from Newark and Washington Township, the 140 assembled had the biggest Kiwanis event of the holidays in Alameda County. Hayward club had representation also.

President Gordon Cotton was eulogized for his efforts in making the club's first year a big success, by Jack DeRuig, immediate Past Lieut. Governor. Directors were complimented also, as well as other officers.

Sam Scott was an ideal master of ceremonies. He called on Harold Baldwin, Lt. Governor-elect for 1955, to install the board of directors and officers. The new president Charles B. Snow, told of the aims of Kiwanis, and aimed to keep the fine work of Gordon Cotton going successfully, with all the energy that he could put forth.

The new officers installed are President—Charles B. Snow. First Vice Pres.—Geo. Latham. Second Vice-Pres.—Dr. John O'Connor.

Treasurer—John Oliviera. Secretary—Sam C. Arnold. Board of Directors—Joseph E. Pashote, Manuel Rose, Paul Driggs, Jack MacGregor, Frank Gyax, Kenneth Foster, and Gene Carroll.

A four-piece orchestra played exceptional music for dancing. The Kiwanis Club of Newark is a power beyond expression for their community, because no other grouping of business and professional men and big growers gives such help and boosting to every part of the Newark area, with the exception of Newark Chamber of Commerce, of course. The weekly meetings bringing up every good speaker in the county is an education in a class by itself.

COUNTY OFFICIALS THANKED FOR WORK IN KIWANIS BANQUET

On his birthday, your publisher had ALL the Alameda

County offices represented in a big Thanksgiving Night of the Hayward Kiwanis Club at Castro Villa in Hayward. Hayward City Councilmen and city officers were guests also. This is an annual night which your publisher inaugurated several years ago, and seems headed for a big annual event in Hayward, with suggestions that the Lions and Rotary Club be asked to join in. The idea is to give the public officials their flowers now. Too often they see nothing but brick bats coming their way.

Francis Dunn, new Supervisor, was speaker of the evening telling "The Things that Alameda County Has to Be Thankful For." His big vote at the polls, and standing with the taxpayers, and school people, proves how valuable he will be to represent Eden Township. And we predict he will move his residence to near Hayward.

Chester Stanley, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, told of the magnificent work done by Supervisor George Janssen, in the Hayward area, as well as in other areas where the county's welfare was concerned. So little is known about the big Juvenile Building and County Health Building near Fairmont Hospital on Foothill Blvd. near Hayward, as well as many big installations in Janssen's Melrose area, that these public gatherings give a real idea of the achievement from year to year. Some newspapers like to tear Supervisors apart where there is a story of lack of tactfulness at a public meeting. So the harsh side is too often emphasized. Harry Bartell had a good deal to do with the success of Alameda County Fair, said Stanley, and although his tactless methods were criticized in print, all had to admit his hard work and honest ways "so you knew always just where Harry stood."

City Attorney Oakes assisted his dad as master of ceremonies for the evening, and introduced the some 100 guests. Alameda Kiwanis Club members were guests that evening also.

The accordion music, singing by a coming Eddie Fisher in the Hayward Fire Dept., and the entertaining by the young lady accordionist, rounded out an evening long to be remembered by the executive heads of Alameda County government.

REZONING APPROVED

Commercial rezoning of the corner of Clough Avenue and Highway 17 in Irvington was approved this week by the County Planning Commission. Max Stevenson, owner of the property, said he wants to expand a service station next to the 100-foot lot.

Niles Carols For Shut-ins

Niles' Christmas carols will be sung to patients in the local rest-homes instead of on First Street this year.

This was reported to the local Chamber of Commerce Tuesday by E. C. Parks, chairman of a committee on the annual affair. Parks said churches and schools oppose the street carolling since it conflicts with their holiday programs.

Free Christmas shows for the youngsters will start at noon on December 22 in the Center and Niles Theaters, said Niles Theater manager Ted Tully.

The chamber also approved John Brahmst's recommendation that only about half its normal 13 strings be installed this year because of expense involved in bringing all the strands up to new safety regulations. Brahmst said the entire job would cost more than $500, and suggested the rest of the lights be revamped over the next year or two.

Parks also said proposed night meetings will not be tried until after the holidays.

Attorney Raps 'Crime Comics'

Gilbert F. DeBorba, Centerville attorney, addressed a group of ministers in Washington Township on November 15, on the subject of "Indecent Literature and Crime Comic Books."

He reported that other areas have found that public opinion is the best and most effective way to eliminate undesirable literature.

Successful drives to clean up the newstands have been held in Modesto and San Rafael and a drive is expected to get under way in the Hayward area in January. In the meantime, Gilbert DeBorba urged the ministers to call this problem to the attention of their congregations.

Tragedy Ends Reunion Here

Tragedy ended a Thanksgiving family reunion in Centerville last Thursday when Mrs. Grace C. Robinson, 45, of Friant, committed suicide at the home of her brother here.

Under doctor's care for a nervous ailment, Mrs. Robinson excused herself at the residence of W. Ralph Goodwin, 360 S. Main St., following Thanksgiving dinner with the family.

Going to the back porch, she picked up a shotgun used earlier in the day for pheasant hunting. She loaded it, took it to a bathroom, pressed the muzzle to her head and pulled the trigger. She died instantly.

Mrs. Robinson's husband, Homer, who was in the living room with the family, said she had been ill. She also is survived by two children, Homer Jr., and Patricia.

Funeral services were in Eureka.

To furnish any materials, supplies or equipment he chooses and may do so at any time during the performance of the work. At such time as the Owner may wish to take advantage of this opportunity a meeting shall be held by the Owner, the Contractor, and the Architect and it shall be determined how the contract price will be adjusted to compensate for the materials, supplies or equipment which the Owner may have acquired.

No bidder may withdraw his bid or deposit accompanying his bid for a period of thirty (30) calendar days after the date set for the opening of bids.

Baptist Church For Irvington

Irvington last Sunday was the scene of launching of a Baptist Church under the leadership of a former Naval Chaplain, Rev. Kenneth Smith, B.D., A.B., to be known as the Calvary Baptist Church.

Services will be held temporarily at 564 Roberts Avenue, in a private home, one block east of the Monument.

Rev. Smith is a graduate of Wheaton College and Eastern Baptist Seminary. Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Bob Jones University and Albion College, with degrees of A.B. and M.A., majoring in music and Christian education. Mrs. Smith taught music for several years in the Detroit public schools. Says the new pastor:

"The church will offer to the community a complete program of Christian worship, education, and expressional activity."

Mrs. Smith is a trained leader with special interests in boys and girls clubs after school hours. The couple is already living in the community.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith recently resigned from the Wall Street Baptist Church of Jackson, Michigan, to accept the invitation of several Irvington friends to begin a new church.

The church is sponsored by Baptist churches affiliated with the Conservative Baptist Association of Northern California, with the Foothill Boulevard Baptist Church of Oakland assuming leadership in the founding period.

Richard Gellersen, Niles Truck Owner, Dies After Accident

have been opened next week on Fremont Avenue, near the Niles turnoff.

Friends also said Gellersen confided in them he had purchased a new home in Niles, and was to be married shortly to a girl from Oakland.

He was a Navy lieutenant in World War II, and received military burial after funeral services in Oakland.

Gellersen's father, William, is a retired vice-president and general manager of Libby, Mc-

Neil & Libby. He lives in Oakland.

According to witnesses, the crash occurred when Gellersen's pickup, making a turn off Valle Vista Road onto the Niles Highway, was struck by Stahl's north-bound sports car. Force of the impact demolished Stahl's auto, and Stahl suffered deep lacerations about the head and throat. He was rushed to Fairmont Hospital, and returned home Sunday.

In the accident, Gellersen's head was snapped back against the rear window of the pickup. Apparently he suffered his fatal injury at that time.

LATE BULLETIN!

Bristow Backed By Niles Board

Trustees of the Niles School District late Wednesday gave a unanimous vote of confidence to Supt. E. Dixon Bristow, under fire for alleged laxness of administration (see Page 1.)

The trustees announced they intend to renew Bristow's contract for one year, pending receipt of a report from the California Teachers' Association.

Bristow and the Board jointly requested the report on (1) the school's reading program, (2) the administration, and (3) whether the school is following the Alameda County curriculum.

The trustees' prepared statement also said that while the board approves of citizens' committees and study groups, it does not approve of them "being used as pressure groups," and does not endorse the groups "if they attempt to usurp the powers invested in the Board."

The statement was delivered at a special meeting at which no parents' group members were present - only three reporters.

Uranium Boom Kiwanis Topic

The "uranium boom" was the subject discussed by Dr. James A. Robertson before the Newark Kiwanis club Monday night. He was introduced by his fellow school board trustee, Sam G. Scott, program chairman.

The arrival of the atomic age has brought a feverish hunt for uranium ore that rivals the gold rush of the nineteenth century, said Dr. Robertson. He added that all the more accessible areas are rapidly being "staked" by prospectors.

AROUND TOWN—

Pardon us—we just had to go back for another piece of cold turkey—Boy! Sometimes we think that is the best of Thanksgiving.

Here is another little gem we found in the phone book—For that Stout girl, it Slater than she thinks.

Say, have you met that Lively Darling who is such a Juhl that everyone calls her Honey?

When you call a Plummer, prepare to Plunkett on the Lyon because his Price isn't Low. That's real sound advice—how will your name fit in? Judy Martin received a tremendous thrill when she was presented a trophy for first Junior Cowgirl when she rode her palomino Sonny in the Veteran's Day parade in Oakland. It was the first parade for Sonny.

Johnny Pine on Pedro and LaVerne Soito on Sirocco, both Tony Martin horses, shared the first place trophy for best parade horses. The trophies were presented by Judge Allen G. Norris.

Winners in the eighth grade magazine subscription selling contest were announced last week. Marlene Hernandez was awarded a camera and case as first prize for girls. Steven Albright received a fresh-water fishing outfit as first prize for boys.

Don't forget the annual Christmas tea given by the Women's Societies of the Newark Presbyterian Church if you would like to learn how to make original Christmas ornaments and decorations. The public is invited to the demonstration and home-made cookies and candy will be on sale. Mrs. Franklin Brown and Mrs. Fred Muller are co-chairmen.

Cheri Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Jones, celebrated her fourth birthday with a luncheon party recently. A delicious luncheon was enjoyed by her guests: Stevie Williams, Diane Homen, Marilyn Ferry, Christine Carroll, Millicent Ferry, Jean Burns, Jeff and Jimmy Homen with their mothers, Alberta Perry, Anne Williams, Betty Homen and Jeanne Carroll.

Randy Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peters, had a picnic of a time for his fourth birthday party at Flood Park last Monday. There was lots of room for his guests to run and play to work up an appetite for the refreshments. Guests included: Bobby Pierce, Mike Roche, Martha McGinnis, Bobby and Nancy Ligon, Christine Carroll, Lynn Sammon, Steve Perry, Nancy Machado and his brother Gary. Adults attending included his mother, Darlene Peters, Dorothy Ligon, Geraldine Perry and Jean Machado.

Frank and Alice Rose are pleased with their recent visit from the stork when he deposited a sweet little bundle weighing eight pounds for them at Civic Center Hospital, Oakland, on November 19. They named her Elizabeth Anne and she joins Richard, David and James at home.

It's a boy! John and Mary Aguiar are announcing the arrival of their second son, Robert, who came into the world at San Jose Hospital on Wednesday, Nov. 16. Baby Robert weighed 6 pounds, 12½ ounces. The Aguiars' first son is John, Jr.

Helene Jensch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jensch, celebrated her tenth birthday on November 20 with a party. Enjoying games and refreshments were: Cathy Sammon, Roberta O'Neill, Barbara Cardoza, Shirley Barks and her sister Elfrieda Jensch.

Shannon Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lynch, really had a wonderful time on her birthday. After the youngsters played games they sat down to supper and enjoyed the menu prepared by the Chef Daddy and served by Waitress Mommy. Following supper came still another treat. The Lynches took the whole party to the Center Theater. Mike Brazil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brazil, was also a happy boy on the 18th, as he blew out the four candles on his birthday cake. With him were Linda and Carla Querner and Bobby and Sandy Pierce along with Mrs. Carl Pierce and his grandmother, Mrs. E. O. Pierce. Missing were Joanne and Philip Brazil, but they sent a gift.

A going away party honoring Kenneth Chapman before he was to leave for duty in Germany was given by Mae and Mary McDermott at their home. Joining them were Kenneth Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lindsay and Clyde Lindsay.

Delmer and Fran Jones spent an enjoyable week end in Fresno over the 20th visiting with friends.

A surprise birthday party was given for George Stewart last week and friends and family hope that George "gets his wish" for the candles he blew out on his cake. Movies were taken of the guests at the party that included his wife Margaret and children Freddie, William and Judith Ann, Mrs. Mary Stewart, Mrs. Dorothy Carpenter and Geraldine, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Etchison and Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stewart, Loretta and Euneta, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Skinner.

Shortie greetings carry happy birthday wishes — to Clifford Andrus who was 13 on a Friday, but not the 13th—to Isabelle Lyons who rang the Belle on another year yesterday—to Beverly Slater who had her eighteenth birthday slated for yesterday — to Josephine Aguiar as she celebrates on Friday—to David Ray McDaniel as he saves up enough air to blow out two candles tomorrow — to Charles Galloway who celebrated with his friends at a super party last Saturday.

Looking in our "crystal" ball we made out an image of Harold and Marie Wright exchanging wedding vows fifteen years ago. Today is their anniversary and in the previous sentence is a hint on the proper gift for Harold to choose. Congrats.

Troy and Norie Stracener celebrated their second wedding anniversary on Tuesday — how time flies—it seems like just yesterday we "covered" their nuptials for the News, our first such assignment. Congrats and many more.

Rites For Father of Jack MacGregor

Funeral services were held Friday in San Jose for Arthur H. MacGregor, 69, former assistant superintendent at Agnew State Hospital, and father of John T. MacGregor, superintendent of Newark's school district.

Scout House Dedication Is December 12

The public is invited to view the reality of a longtime dream of Scouts and Scouters of Centerville, on December 12, when the new Centerville Scout House will be dedicated at 2 p.m.

Ceremonies will be conducted by Philip Sousa, long a Scout and Scouter in Centerville. Dedication remarks will be given by Allen G. Norris, Judge of the Juvenile Court and former President of the Oakland Area Boy Scout Council. The Washington Union High School band will provide music for the occasion. Says Sousa:

"These ceremonies present an opportunity for the Scouts to thank the many individuals of Centerville and the Township for their generosity in money, labor, and materials that has made this building possible."

After the dedication the Scouts will hold open house for their friends and benefactors.

A semaphore atop Telegraph Hill in San Francisco was used in early days to announce the approach of ships through the Golden Gate.

The December meeting being omitted, the next meeting will take place on January 27, at the usual time.

The committee wishes to thank all who helped to make the pot luck supper of the preceding month such a success. They also wish to thank the players, George Enos, James Aguir, and Martin Dias for their fine entertainment.

Members—Please do not forget our card party on December 5 at East San Jose at 2 p.m. sharp. Bring your friends and neighbors.

Thanksgiving Feast—A restful and thankful Thanksgiving was enjoyed by the guests of Craig's Rest Haven. Three large turkeys with all the trimmings, plus pumpkin, custard, and mince pie were served to the 32 guests including children who dropped in to feast with their kin-folks. Eight guests went home for the holiday and weekend.

Our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Burnard for the loss of her husband and to the Sanford boys for the loss of their stepfather. Mr. Burnard passed away on Friday morning at the Oakland Hospital following a long illness.

Out for dinner—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marks and family spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Magud of Oakland. But don't worry, we were home before the fog arrived, and we noticed most everyone else trying to do the same. Hope your Thanksgiving was merry, too. —Your friend Irma.

R.W.E. Shuey, Hero Of War, Dies Here

Funeral services were held Monday in Oakland Naval Hospital chapel for Chief Yeoman Ralph W. E. Shuey, 62, of Mission San Jose, a Navy veteran of 39 years' service, who received the nation's second-highest award for heroism in World War I.

Shuey died at his home on 515 Bryant St. of a heart attack on Thanksgiving Day. He was chief yeoman at the Alameda Naval Air Station, where he had served for the past two years.

Enlisting in 1913, Shuey was aboard the USS Cassin, a destroyer, when she was torpedoed in the Atlantic in 1917. He was cited for heroism and awarded the Navy Cross for helping rescue shipmates when the Cassin sank.

In World War II, he had charge of recruiting stations in the Midwest. In the Korean conflict, he served overseas aboard the aircraft carrier Valley Forge.

Shuey is survived by his widow, Gertrude; and six children, William of Hayward, Mrs. Frank P. Wolfe in Germany, Karen Ann, Katherine K., Marian Jane and Virginia Mae Shuey, all of Mission San Jose; and six grandchildren.

He was the son of Mrs. W. A. Shuey of Hayward and the brother of Mrs. Sidney Gilb of Redwood City, Mrs. Ben Herr of Indiana and Mrs. Wilson Worthen and W. H. Shuey, both of Hayward.

FLOOD CONTROL, SAFETY, PROSPERITY

What is the link between next Tuesday's flood-bond election and the future of the Central Township?

Simply this: until funds are forthcoming for flood-control and drainage, no East Bay community — including Centerville, Newark, Niles and Decoto — can hope for orderly, regular development. Factories will shy away from a flood-prone town. Subdividers will go elsewhere.

Sure, we'll grow. Geography and the population shift to California decided that a long time ago. But without proper drainage and flood curbs, growth will mean a little here, a little there, instead of the steady healthful development we want to help pay our mounting taxes.

Sounds funny, doesn't it — taxing ourselves to help pay our taxes? But it's the truth: unless we spend the money now, more will have to be spent later — and not the way we want it, either.

As an example of what a flood-and-drainage zone can do for a community, look at Irvington. One year ago it voted flood bonds. Today Irvington is the fastest-growing home community in the State — with developers fighting each other to put in multi-million-dollar shopping centers. All due to proper flood-control planning!

Can Centerville, Newark, Niles, Decoto fail where Irvington succeeds? The answer is NO!

The vote to insure that these towns won't fail should be YES! next Tuesday.

WISE APPOINTMENT, WELL-EARNED REST

Appointment of Mrs. Lyle Buehler to the Alameda County Planning Commission does credit both to our Township and to Supervisor Chester Stanley, who in effect made the appointment.

Mrs. Buehler is eminently qualified for the job. Though she is the first woman to be named to the commission, those who know her will have no doubt of her ability to handle the increasing work-load involved.

The planning commission has a heavy responsibility. It is charged first, with planning the broad-scale future of the county's non-city areas. Then it must see they are zoned for orderly development. Finally it has taken unto itself the harrowing detail work of adjusting the zones to suit individual petitioners. The task is almost endless — and hardly rewarding, to date, from the standpoint of work accomplished or credit given to the commissioners.

The quiet campaign to increase the number of commissioners from seven to nine is now coming into flower. The supervisors, who appoint the commissioners, appear to be leaning toward the idea. It seems only just that the two new planners should come from Southern Alameda County, where the only unzoned, unincorporated land remains. Perhaps the appointment of an able, energetic woman like Mrs. Buehler to the group will hasten the day when control will be removed from city representatives.

As for the retiring commissioner, Robert J. Wright, he has served for 20 years in a thankless job, and his faithful attendance and work deserve a vote of thanks from our Township. Mr. Wright accepted the responsibility when others would have shied from it. Ill health and other duties now dictate his abdication. But Mr. Wright should gain satisfaction from a task fulfilled at what must have been considerable sacrifice on his part, and from the knowledge that his task has been left in competent hands.

EXTRA CAREFUL

Local pride prevents us from admitting that Washington Township's cats and dogs are any more unsophisticated than canines and felines elsewhere. Still there is the mute evidence: motorists can almost tell when they arrive in our Township by the crushed bodies of the unhappy animals which have been struck by cars. They litter the roads and ditches until some Samaritan or some agency removes them.

Great stretches of our Township are still rural, probably accounting for the melancholy death rate of these skylarking pets under the wheels of speeding drivers. City dogs and cats learn early how to survive. The thing is, a cat can dart quicker than a child. Drivers here should remember that the area is becoming thickly populated, and that their speed and the conduct of their heavy-horsepowered autos should be governed according to the rule that ours are still country kids.

A SHOCK, BUT HOW PLEASANT!

Fellow we know who owns a store tells this one. Seems this woman came in and told him she wanted a certain item he didn't have in stock. Says he: "I can get it for you but it'll take a week." Says she: "All right, I'll wait. I could get it today in the city but I believe in buying at home. If we're ever going to get bigger selections in the local stores, we've got to support the local merchants." Says our friend: "I could have fallen over. For so many years they've been giving us the 50-cent orders and taking the $50 ones to Oakland or San Jose. Almost gives me strength to put in a few extra items this Christmas."

The Editor's Corner

By STUART NIXON

There's grief a-plenty at the Ed Huddleson home in Mission San Jose. The Huddlesons' beautiful Irish setter, Riley, is dead. Riley was 83, and some months back a dog-hater filled him with birdshot and he failed to recover. Nice guys, some hunters.

I ran a "teaser" a couple of weeks ago about the Township political appointee who was due to lose his job. The boot has not been applied yet, but the CALLS I've had, asking! Doesn't ANYBODY feel secure?

Did you know that Will Patterson, besides being a water district director for 41 years, also used to play football for Stanford? Or that when he got out in the early 1900's, he volunteered to coach the Washington Hi eleven? Or that he took them to a State Championship in, was it 1907? According to Bob Blacow, one of Coach Patterson's stalwarts of those days, the Huskies gave no ground to the big, tough schools in Oakland or San Francisco and whipped them bareknuckled and no helmets either. Maybe 1907's coach could give today's mentors some pointers.

Speaking of the gridiron, sons of the Gold-and-Blue will probably put Supervisor Chester Stanley on one because Stanley's football-star son, a Livermore Hi halfback, is Stanford-bound. The father-and-son duo were in looking over the NEWS-REGISTER plant last week. That's how I know.

Why do some committees spend valuable time on petty arguments when the time to get things done in the Township is now, not three years from now?

A Niles mother says the only way her children could get water inside their rain boots is by lying in puddles, so they did. Oh for boots that'd reach their chins!

Every year Santa arrives earlier. Soon he'll be available all year around. According to the man of the of the family, they are "hins" children when good, but mine when they're naughty.

Is the woman who serves so many cocktails before dinner just trying to dull the taste buds of her guests?

The Centerville man who was late opening his store last week admitted he wasn't used to all the work and customers he'd had the Friday night before.

Is it my old age showing, or are teen-agers starting to smoke at an earlier age than they used to?

Irvington Flood Work Bids Let

Supervisors of the Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District opened bids last week for the improvement of Laguna Creek between Fourth Street and Mission Street in Irvington.

Work on Laguna Creek will involve approximately 12,000 cubic yards of channel excavation, concrete lining of portions of the channel, fencing, and the construction of 5 timber bridges across the new channel.

Six contractors submitted bids for this contract. John A. Carstensen of Oakland was the low bidder for this project, with a bid of $33,311.

Herbert G. Crowle, Engineer-Manager of the Flood Control District, said the work on this project should start within a few days after the contract is let.

Start of the work on Laguna Creek will mark the initiation of a $1,743,000 construction program authorized by the voters of the zone to bring flood control and storm drainage to the communities of Irvington, Mission San Jose and Warm Springs and the surrounding area.

Continued endorsement and assistance from all types of publicity media plays a vital role in assuring the success of the Army Recruiting program. The Centerville Recruiting personnel and the United States Army are indeed fortunate in having your active support.

Sincerely yours,

FRANCIS J. ERHARDT,

Major, Infantry, commanding San Francisco Area Recruiting Station.

SUZY SEZ...

The result of one Thanksgiving holiday was a terrific argument between relatives gathered in the Township for dinner. It ended with every one driving off angry, and the hostess was left with the dishes.

An Irvington mother says between breaths, she may yet break the four-minute mile record, chasing her two-year-old down the block.

While Warm Springs is changing street names, along with a new name for Railroad Avenue, how about one for Prune Road? Or have you heard the jokes about getting stewed on Prune Road?

It's up to you domestic helpers to see that your employer deducts Social Security for you. You'll be the one to benefit later on, but only if you contribute now.

When you cut the t.v. schedule from this paper, clip it to a file-case folder, then it'll always be handy and easy to read.

Unless you have a telephone, the only way telegrams can be delivered in Washington Township is by mail, unless delivery is pre-paid by the sender.

From now on when meetings don't start on time I'll read a book. I just might catch up on all the best sellers that way.

Only two things go faster than sound. The newest jets, and uncomplimentary gossip.

A Decoto man won't let his wife use one of those 'de-smellers' as he calls 'em. He likes the odor of frying onions and cabbage.

It's pure torture to see the Christmas gifts now on sale locally, and then to compare what my purse holds with price tags and gift lists.

Why do some committees spend valuable time on petty arguments when the time to get things done in the Township is now, not three years from now?

A Niles mother says the only way her children could get water inside their rain boots is by lying in puddles, so they did. Oh for boots that'd reach their chins!
